

Every effort will be made to supply a wide variety of quality fruits and vegetables. Anticipated produce availability and time line may be viewed on our website. However, no guarantee is made or implied as to what produce will be available during the season. Simply, we will do our best to make your participation in the 2011 CSA an experience worth repeating.

Hentze Farm invites you to participate in its 2011 CSA Program

Since 1902 our family has produced many of the fruits and vegetables that you love. Teamed up with other local farmers, we provide you with one of the finest selections of produce in the Willamette Valley. Visit our food processing facility this season and discover how more than 100 years of farming tradition has made Hentze Farm a food preservers paradise.

What is CSA?

Community supported agriculture is a mutually beneficial relationship between a farmer and community members who invest together in the production of fruits, vegetables and/or other agricultural commodities. Members contribute operating capital which reduces the farmer's dependence on commercial lenders. In return, CSA members receive fresh, quality produce throughout the growing season at a significant discount.
